DREAMER

A dreamer is an optimistic person who always sees the good side (the glass half full).

They are characterized by: Mentally building what their future could be.

Easily abstracting themselves from reality (conversations, work) to enter a more exciting parallel realm.

Having a great capacity for imagining multiple, often improbable, future situations.

BENEFITS

GRAPE

Grapes are rich in minerals and vitamins A, B, and C. They contain easily digestible sugars (glucose and levulose), in addition to organic acids, tannins, and polyphenols. Among the latter, resveratrol stands out for its cardiovascular protective action.

BLUEBERRY

Blueberries are beneficial for health:

They reduce blood pressure (a study showed a 4–6% reduction when consuming 50g daily for 8 weeks).

- They contain anthocyanins (powerful antioxidants).
- They are allies for memory.

BLACKBERRY

Blackberries have antioxidant properties that stimulate the elimination of toxins and unnecessary substances, taking care of the skin, the circulatory system, and other organs. Regular consumption of blackberries detoxifies the body.
